Melbourne Society of Women Painters & Sculptors

The MSWPS 113th Annual Exhibition displays the talents of its members in Changing Perspectives 2022 at the Victorian Artists Society Galleries.

An online catalogue will supplement the exhibition after proving popular during Covid. Virtual catalogues will supplement all future live exhibitions.

The MSWPS website provides another opportunity for online promotion of member profiles, artworks and events.

MSWPS is grateful for the bequest made by sculptor Ola Cohn, President of the Society for 15 years until her death in 1964. Ola's bequest grants MSWPS access to her former home in East Melbourne on Thursdays. Regular Life Drawing sessions are held at the centre as well as committee and monthly member's meetings. The leafy sculpture garden at The Ola Cohn House makes it an ideal venue for MSWPS Annual Winter and Christmas Luncheons. Train and bus trips give members the opportunity to socialise and view regional exhibitions. Paint outs and gallery visits happen whenever possible. All these events lead to lasting friendships and an exchange of ideas so important to artists who work alone.

In its 120th year, MSWPS brings women artists together to show their work to an ever-increasing audience throughout Australia and the world.

Annie Davison Oliver Award

Annie Davison Oliver was an active member of the Society for 67 years until her death at the age of 94 in 1997. Not only was she MSWPS Treasurer for many years, but she was also a generous benefactor.

MSWPS established the Annie Davison Oliver award in her honour. The bequest from her estate guarantees the award in perpetuity.

Valda Cuming Sculpture Award

Valda Cuming OAM served on the MSWPS Committee for many of her 25 years as a member of the Society. Valda was widely recognized for her proficiency in sculpture using a range of materials including wood, ceramic and stone. At the pinnacle of her career in 2019, she was awarded an Order of Australia Medal for services to the Arts.

The Valda Cuming Sculpture Award was established by MSWPS in recognition of her family's bequest and Valda's impressive achievements.

Sunflowers for Ukraine

An exhibition and sale of sunflower artworks will be held in conjunction with the MSWPS 113th annual exhibition.

All proceeds will be donated to the Red Cross Ukraine Appeal.

Sunflowers (soniashynk in Ukrainian) have been grown in Ukraine since the 18th century as a symbol of peace. MSWPS hope visitors to the exhibition will be moved to buy sunflower artworks to help raise much needed funds.

Make your selection at the Cato Gallery on the ground floor of the Victorian Artists Society Galleries, 430 Albert Street, East Melbourne.
